

The True Test

Tried in Barre, It Has Stood the Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Barre. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Mrs. Margaret Reid, 40 Maple avenue, Barre, Vt., says: "I gave a public statement in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1905, and I am glad to confirm it at this time for the benefit of all persons who suffer from kidney trouble. For more than three years I was bothered off and on by backaches, and at night I suffered so intensely that I could not sleep. During damp weather I was always worse and, although I wore plaster, I obtained only temporary relief. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I procured a box at E. A. Brown's drug store. They helped me in a short time, and I continued taking them until the pain in my back was entirely relieved. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me in every way, and I have had little or no trouble from my kidneys since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Randall Wood hopes to be able to return home from the Boston hospital about the middle of this week.

If you want a few tons of excellent early-cut hay, cheap for cash, see Mr. J. H. Doherty at the "far east" station of this paper.

Mrs. Charles D. Brockway has returned home after an absence of six or more weeks with relatives in Newbury and Marshfield.

There will be a service at the Methodist vestry on Friday afternoon and evening of this week. Of course, everybody will be welcomed.

Inquiry has been made for the post office address of our former townman, Rufus S. Davis and son, Harold. It is: Chatham Dairy, Charlotte, North Carolina.

The midweek prayer meeting of the Congregational church will again be at the home of Mrs. J. E. Alsworth on Thursday evening of this week. All are cordially invited to attend.

Cory, the only son of the late Wallace Hunter, and the only grandson of Albert H. Norris, has lately gone to the Albany, N. Y., business college. He is said to be a bright boy.

Williamstown lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F., is invited to attend the regular meeting of the Hiram Lodge, No. 20, on Thursday evening, February 17; work, the first degree. A good attendance is desired.

H. D. Casey, superintendent of schools in Williamstown and Chelsea, tells us that at the teachers' examinations last week, there were nine persons in Chelsea and three here, who applied for certificates.

The Robert P. Bass of Peterboro, N. H., whose name we mentioned as a possible candidate for governor of New Hampshire at the next election, is a son of our late ex-townman, Perkins Bass, who was a son of the late Joel Bass, Jr., of our village.

The very sad news has come to us of the death in Lynn, Mass., of Ernest, youngest son of the late Ralph Ditty. He was employed in Lynn as a railroad man, and he is said to have been killed by accident on Saturday last. His body was brought here yesterday and his funeral was held this morning at the home of his brother, Winsor Ditty, of our village. He leaves a wife and three or four children, the youngest said to be only a few months old. He was some 32 years of age.

Some years ago a granite cutter here came to a hand-to-hand fight with a tumbler. Finally, without means to support himself and family, he had to leave help from a town, and it was quickly discovered that his residence was in a neighboring town. Fortunately for him, the overseer of the poor in that town had the heart, or the wit—one or both—to feel him here, with the fat of the land, and as it was felt that a man in his physical condition needed and ought to have—some game, and the light. Combined with this, as we recall it, he was cold, fresh air—more plentiful here in winter than eggs, and fine beef, etc., and the man came to be well known with a title for the family, California-wards. We have just heard that this man has regained his health, and that he is a rugged, strong man today. Tally one, or two, or three for that overseas!

If all Vermont shall, ere long, agree to celebrate an anniversary of the birthday of our late distinguished U. S. senator, Justin S. Morrill, any anniversary of the man will be in order. Here is one that we have never seen published. Among the senator's good Vermont friends and supporters was a merchant, and perhaps one of the oldest in the state at the time. A young Vermont friend of this merchant, wanting a government position in Washington, D. C., wrote the senator, hoping that their mutual friendship with the merchant would go a good way to secure the senator's aid. The senator replied by a very neatly written letter, stating the pleasure it would give him to do anything he could for a friend of his old Vermont friend. But it seemed as if he thought he could hardly do that same friend a greater kindness than to give him his own personal and kindly advice. On the subject of such governmental positions there was no seeking. He seemed to think that, all things considered, they were anything but very desirable for any young man to covet.

ROOSEVELT NEARING NILE.

Expected to Reach Conakoro, in the Sudan, on Wednesday.

Gondokoro, Sudan, on the Upper Nile, Feb. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt and the officers of the Smithsonian African Scientific expedition are expected here on Wednesday. The launch of General Sir Reginald Wingate, squire of the Egyptian army, is in waiting to convey the party to Khartoum. The trip down the Bar-el-Jebel and the White Nile will be begun Thursday or Friday, and Khartoum should be reached about March 6. Three days later the voyage down the river Nile to Cairo will begin.

The last news from the American party was received from Nimula Uganda Protectorate, on Feb. 7, when the ten days march to Gondokoro was commenced. The march which was to be over about 108 miles of rough territory was expected to be as hard if not more trying than any other portion of the expedition's route.

A Philadelphia clergyman tells of an incident in connection with his first visit to a town in Pennsylvania, where he expected to be called as pastor.

While tramping along a dusty road he was so fortunate as to encounter a man in a wagon who gave him a lift. During the conversation that ensued between the two the divine chance to ask:

"Do the folks hereabout enjoy religion?" "I don't know exactly," replied his companion, "but I s'pose that them that has it enjoys it."

THE ROAD TO THE TOP.

Secret of Success, or a Tale at the Railroad Station.

They stood on the station platform, and the mercury hovered around zero. "By the way, sir," exclaimed the inquisitive man in the red earmuffs, "I just saw you speak to your wealthy brother."

"Well, sir, what of it if you did?" snorted the big man with the icicles in his mustache.

"Nothing, sir; nothing at all. However, you mind telling me the real cause of his accumulating so much wealth?"

"Oh, sir, what of it if you did?" snorted the big man with the icicles in his mustache.

"Come, now—can't you be sociable and tell me the reason?"

The big man made a megaphone of his hands.

"Shush, confound it, shush! S-u-s-h! He manufactures rubber boots for snowy weather! If you ask me again!"

But the inquisitive man in the red earmuffs was hitting it down the track.

Making It Hard For Father.

They were having a guessing match at riddles, and nothing seemed impossible to old Father Jones. As a last resort old Mother Jones got up and announced that she had one. "It is green, it stands against the wall and makes a noise like a cow."

After a volley of faulty answers the younger generation gave up and turned to Father Jones. Even he looked helpless. At last he surrendered to mother's mercy.

Mother Jones drew a deep breath and, with a look of importance, said, "It's a herring."

"A herring?" all yelled. "How?" "Why, it's green if you paint it green," said Mother Jones, "and—"

"But it doesn't stand against the wall," they all protested.

"Yes, if you nail it against the wall," smiled Mother Jones.

"But," spoke up Father Jones, "who ever heard of a herring crying like a cow?"

"Well," defended Mother Jones, "if I hadn't put that in you would have guessed the riddle!"—Success Magazine.
